

Third International Conference of the Sustainable Consumption
Research and Action Initiative
Copenhagen Business School, Copenhagen, June 27–30, 2018

Poster Session

1. Midori Aoyagi, Asian middle class consumers: Who are they?
2. Sabine Bietz, Jan Bauer, Julius Rauber & Lucia Reisch, Nudging for good food: cities as labs in the real world
3. Shirin Betzler, Elena Niehuis, Susanne Stark & Sigrid Bekmeier-Feuerhahn, Acknowledging the complexity of consumers: an integrative model for sustainable ICT consumption
4. Aleksandra Burgiel & Jolenta Zralek, Non-ownership & collaborative consumption as sustainable alternatives for consumerist lifestyles: incentives & impediments to their broader adoption in Poland
5. Ryuzo Furukawa & Masae Mitsuhashi, Development of lifestyle evaluation factors to analyze lifestyle change
6. Michael Jørgensen, Sharing & repairing activities in cities
7. Minna Kanerva, Unmaking meat: transforming social practices
8. Yuko Kishikami, Ontological analysis of sustainable lifestyles
9. Yan Li, Jiuyue Zhang, Lei Zhang, Yue Pan & Yang Yu, Chinese sustainable consumption trend & its revised transmission mechanism
10. Genovaite Liobikiene, Reconciliation of materialistic values with pro-environmental behavior: the case of Lithuania
11. Deepti Mahajan, Tim Cooper, David Smith & Alexander Gnanapragasam, Quality as sustainability: transforming consumer goods markets
12. Ana Pocas Ribeiro, Local food & the power of institutions
13. Stefano Spillare, Social innovation practices of food waste reduction in Italy: between system responses & relational dynamics
14. Stephan Wallaschkowski, Elena Niehuis, Susanne Stark & Sigrid Bekmeier-Feuerhahn, Promoting sustainable fashion consumption: the relevance of stereotypes & sex roles as sustainability barriers in a gendered industry

*Underlining denotes conference participant.